Statement

The MCC's Recognition of Prior Learning Policy (RPL) is designed to ensure that an individual's prior learning, achieved through formal and informal training, work experience or other life experiences, is appropriately recognised.

This policy documents the criteria followed by the MCC in assessing RPL and its decision-making process.

Objectives

In consideration of the above principles, the objectives of the Recognition of Prior Learning Policy are to:

- Increase access to RPL by individuals entering any formal and/or recognised training program;
- Ensure that RPL is an integral component of the assessment of an individual's eligibility for an award or formally recognised competency;
- Ensure that the procedure for RPL incorporates a range of valid and reliable techniques designed to accurately assess competencies held;
- Promote 'non-traditional' learning processes as valid pathways to competency achievement and recognised training outcomes;
- Ensure that an individual's prior learning, achieved through formal and informal training, work experience or other life experiences is appropriately recognized;

Scope

This Policy/Procedure addresses Recognition of Prior Learning in the context of formal courses recognised in the Australian Qualifications Framework, where the course/competency leads to an accredited qualification, and applies to all applications for Recognition of Prior Learning and Recognition of Current Competencies by students.

Principles

National Training Framework Committee

The MCC has adopted the following principles of the National Training Framework Committee:

- Assessment processes will provide for the recognition of current competencies, regardless of where these may have been acquired.
- Recognition of prior learning focuses on identifying the endorsed industry / enterprise competency standards currently held by individuals as a result of formal and informal training, not how, when or where the learning occurred.
- Recognition of prior learning underpins any system of competency based training. It is essential to have a demonstrable commitment to recognising the prior learning of individuals.
- Recognition of prior learning will be available to all potential applicants.
Recognition of prior learning will involve processes that are fair to all parties involved.
Recognition of prior learning will involve the provision of adequate support to potential applicants.

Key Principles of Assessment in RPL

Assessment processes must be valid, reliable, flexible and fair. It is imperative that in the assessment of competencies for the recognition of prior learning, the following principles be observed:

- Validity

  Assessments will cover the range of skills and knowledge needed to demonstrate competency.

  Assessment of competencies will integrate knowledge and skills with their practical application.

  Assessment of a student’s competency will be judged on sufficient evidence gathered on a number of occasions and in a variety of contexts or situations and using different methods. The evidence will be collected from activities and tasks that can be clearly related to the unit of competency or learning outcomes specified and demonstrate that the performance criteria have been met.

- Reliability

  The criteria for the judgment of competence must be stated clearly and adhered to.

- Fairness

  Assessment practices and methods should be fair and equitable to all students.

  Assessment procedures and the criteria for judging performance must be made clear to all students seeking assessment.

  Assessment should be based on a consultative approach. The process of assessment should be jointly developed / agreed between those involved.

  Students should be provided with the opportunity to challenge assessments and provision should be made for a review and an appeal of assessment decisions.
Flexibility

Assessment should cover both on and off-the-job components of training. Procedures should allow students to seek recognition in one or more of the units of competency without having to participate in a training program.

Fees and Charges for RPL Services

In determining fees and charges for Recognition of Prior Learning the principles of access and fairness under the Australian Quality Training Framework will be applied.

Application fee of $500 and additional fee of $100 per hour (Plus GST) will be charged for the assessment of an RPL Application

RPL Fees are non-refundable.

Stages of the RPL Process

The RPL process will include the following stages:

- Information supplied by the MCC on the RPL process
- Initial support and counselling provided by the MCC
- Self-assessment by the student in creating their supporting evidence
- Student to submit Application for RPL
- Assessment of student RPL Application and supporting evidence
- Post-assessment guidance provided by the MCC
- Certification by the MCC

Students are provided with the opportunity to question assessments and access to the MCC's complaints and appeals process for a review and an appeal of assessment decisions if required.

Assessment covers both on and off-the-job components of training. Procedures allow students to seek recognition in one or more of the units of competency without having to participate in a training program.

Risk Management and Quality Assurance

The extent of recognition sought may be up to 100%, however, it is recommended not to exceed 80%. It is acknowledged that there is a higher risk associated with this degree of recognition. The amount of risk in the RPL...
The process is directly related to the amount of evidence to be collected; the degree of rigor required; the number of assessors to be used; and the costs of implementing RPL processes.

The general principle to be observed is that as the level of risk increases there should be a corresponding increase in the rigor of the RPL processes. This increased rigor can be achieved through requiring more evidence of higher quality and the involvement of more assessors to review the evidence and make the final assessment decision.
