Action/Method

- Identifying Appropriately Skilled Staff
  - Identify staff with the most appropriate skills and knowledge for the program.

- Determining Training Needs
  - Consult within the organisation and industry to ascertain what related skills exist, what training already exists, literacy levels, and potential number of people in the target group.
  - Identify the gap in the skills base.
  - Professional Recognition & registration
  - Common underlying learning outcomes

- Developing Learning Outcomes
  - Analyse the required training and express in terms of Learning Outcomes and Assessment Criteria.
  - Reference any relevant National Competency Standards.

- Identifying Training Criteria
  - Is certification/registration required? If so, who will be the accrediting body?(ASQA)
  - What access is there to existing formal training (consider shift arrangements, location)?
  - What is the base level of literacy of the target group?
  - Are there industry/national standards that must be addressed?
  - What is the required training - a one-off event or does it need to integrate into a larger program?
  - What timeframes exist?
  - Are there any funding arrangements that could be accessed?
  - Clustered or un-clustered design and/or delivery

- Designing the Training Program
  - Determine whether Training designed should be based on a
    - 1. Un-clustered approach (single individual unit of competency)
MCC Policies and Procedures

Determining Delivery Arrangements

- Determine whether Training is delivered is a
  - 1. Un-clustered approach (single individual unit of competency)
  - 2. Clustered approach (multiple units of competency)
- Seek course accreditation/recognition if required through the relevant Australian Skills Authority (ASQA).
- Identify personnel and physical resource requirements, including prescribed qualifications and experience.
- If required, instigate recruitment processes to meet the skills shortfalls within the Institute.
- In addition to the Australian Quality Training Framework Standards, recruitment and selection related to specific training sectors will comply with any requirements imposed by the accrediting authorities and syllabus documentation.
- Develop the training resources and verify these with other trainers before delivery.
- Arrange venue and physical resources.
- Identify and arrange any special requirements regarding access and equity.

Delivering the Training Program

- Trainers to be qualified both in training techniques and content (formal qualifications and suitable experience).
- Enrol students.
- Constantly monitor the progress of the training and modify strategy as required.
- Provide students with written information relating to the course aims, learning outcomes, assessment criteria.
- Record attendance on Course Role/ Training Plan.
- Identify students that have specific learning difficulties / training needs and make any adjustments or extra support necessary on a per case basis.
- Ensure that all Learning Outcomes are addressed.

Assessing the Clients

2. Clustered approach (multiple units of competency)

- Does a suitable unit or training package exist? If so, gather full details including a syllabus/competency standards document and delivery arrangements.
- Can an existing unit be modified? If so, gather full details including a syllabus/competency standards document, and modify the Learning Outcomes and Assessment Criteria to suit.
- Do new units need to be developed? If so, involve key ‘experts’ in the writing of the unit to current Standard and relevant Competency Standards.
- Circulate the completed unit to other ‘expert’ people for comment and modification.
Assessment processes to be based on concepts outlined in TA Certificate IV in Training and Assessment (or equivalent).
- Clients to be assessed on the basis of competent / not yet competent.
- All performance criteria are to be assessed.
- Details of assessment are to be documented.
- Assessing the Course
- Encourage students to complete a Student Feedback Questionnaire.
- Management to review and validate the program:
  - Were the desired outcomes achieved?
  - What feedback (positive and negative) was received?
  - What changes should be made when the course is run again?
  - Were any non-conformances issued during the course? If so, review.
  - Were the objectives appropriate for the target group?
  - Were participants selected appropriately?
  - Were assessment methods and tools valid, reliable, sufficient and fair?

Documentation

- Arrange the issue of certificates as per Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015 using the student’s Assessment Records for verification that competencies achieved.
- Retain a copy of assessment results.
- Delivery and Assessment Strategy (Training and Assessment Strategy)
